A DULL THUD

HARRITY PLAYS HIS LAST CARD IN A DEEP GAME.

A Bold Move to Capture the United States Senatorship.

Pattison Used as a Figurehead to Carry Close Legislative Districts.

A WILY BOSS SCHEMES FOR HIMSELF

The Democratic National Chairman Will Not Carry Off the Senatorship as Republicans Are Alive to the Situation and Propose to Vote for the Regular Republican Candidates for the Legislature.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.

What has been suspected for some time has become a confirmed fact. William F. Harrity is a candidate for United States senator. The extraordinary tactics resorted to by the Democratic machine to carry close legislative districts are but part of a deeply planned scheme to capture the legislature and satisfy the latest ambition of this aspiring and crafty Democratic boss.

Harrity has been playing a clever game. His friends have given it out that the Democrats conceding the state to the Republicans in presidential year do not propose to make any effort to win anything in Pennsylvania this fall. They have heralded their intention to devote all their energies to raising money to send over to New York to be used there and in other doubtful states. Harrity has had himself interviewed so as to announce that Pennsylvania Democrats have contributed many thousands of dollars more to the national committee's campaign fund this year than in any previous presidential campaign.

Harrity at the Wire.

Meanwhile, the wily national chairman has been in communication by private wire with Chairman Wright of the Democratic state committee and his lieutenants in every county in the state. He first saw to it that Democratic candidates for the legislature were nominated who would be favorable to his interests. Then a still hunt was inaugurated in every senatorial and representative district in which there was the ghost of a chance to elect a Democrat. The whole power of the national Democratic organization was exerted in this secret work. Plans were concocted to spread discord in the Republican organization. In a few cases Harrity's agents were successful in bringing about independent Republican nominations so as to divide the Republican vote with the regular Republican nominee and let Harrity's Democratic candidate slip in.

Desperate Chances Taken.

Desperate chances have been taken in using the machinery of the state department and the ballot commission in which Harrity and his chief lieutenant Hensel constitute a majority to prevent Republican counties from getting their official ballots printed in time for election day. There has been a most outrageous exhibition in the decisions of this commission which have been made and reversed as though the sole purpose was to embarrass the county commissioners in the printing of the tickets. After the state department had certified nominations and the printers had been notified to go ahead printing the tickets, telegrams were sent notifying commissioners that an error had been made, or that some names must be added to the ballot. This was several days after the printers had started in to print the tickets, and in some cases they had finished them.

Harrity's Last Card.

Harrity reserved a last card which he played this week. He is banking on it as a big trump. Some weeks ago he had stories printed in friendly newspapers, intimating that in the event of the Democrats carrying the legislature Governor Pattison would be elected to the United States senate. No boastful claim was then made that the Democracy had any show of electing a majority of the legislature. Harrity's idea was to create an impression in certain quarters that the governor would be seriously considered for the senatorship. The scheme was to use his name in a few districts to inspire and bolster up independent legislative nominees, where an intimation of Harrity for United States senator would only draw the party lines closer.

Harrity's last card is in the form of a circular letter bringing out Governor Pattison as a full fledged candidate for senator. It is being sent as a personal communication through the mail. Through his close relations with certain gentlemen active in the Pattison gubernatorial campaign, Harrity secured a list of Republicans in every county who voted for Pattison for governor.

A Bogus Appeal.

The appeal is now being mailed to them as though coming from a Republican source, urging them to vote for the Democratic candidate for senator or representative, as the case may be, and thus insure the election of Governor Pattison to the United States senate. Harrity calculates that in a number of close districts he will be successful in influencing enough Republicans to desert their party candidates so as to elect Democrats to the legislature.

Should this scheme succeed, the Pattison mask would be torn off after election day and the Harrity senatorial boom would be launched in full public view. The Harrity lieutenants would then point out that it would be wild politics to send Pattison to the senate and hand the governorship over to a Republican, Lieutenant Governor Watres. Once in the governor's chair, they would argue, Watres could turn the whole executive branch of the state government over to the Republican party. He could oust both Secretary of State Harrity and Attorney General Hensel and appoint Republicans in their stead as he could with all other appointees of the governor. No, it would never do to send Pattison to the senate! Harrity conceived the scheme to capture the legislature, his henchmen would say, and to him the senatorship should rightfully belong.

To Gerrymander and "Michiganize."

A Democratic legislature would need the continuance of a Democratic governor in power to carry out the full purpose of the conspiracy upon which Harrity and his machine politicians are at work. Pattison would have to be kept in the governor's office to sign the congressional and legislative apportionment gerrymander bills that would be passed to increase the Democratic representation in congress, to make the state senate Democratic probably for years to come and to wipe out many reliable Republican representative districts.

Of course the first thing Harrity would do with the entire state government in his control would be to follow the tactics of his friend, Don Dickinson, chairman of the campaign committee of the Democratic national committee and Michiganize Pennsylvania.

When Dickinson captured the Michigan legislature, through Republican disaffection he passed the now famous bill electing presidential electors by congressional districts instead of in the state at large. With a Democratic governor and a Democratic legislature Harrity could make from ten to fifteen electors from Pennsylvania safe for the Democratic presidential candidate four years hence by Michiganizing the state.

Republicans Will Block the Scheme.

Republicans realizing the calamity that would befall the state should the Democrats get control of the legislature as well as the executive branch of the government have awakened to the danger of frittering away their votes on independent candidates for state senator or representative. There has been a marked closing up of the party lines during the last ten days. Republicans have resolved to stand by the regular nominees.

General Clarkson's warning about the close fight for control of the United States senate appears to have been heeded. A Democratic senator from Pennsylvania might have the deciding vote by which the senate would be made Democratic with the consequent repeal of the McKinley tariff should Cleveland happen to be elected. Pennsylvania Republicans have awakened to the importance of the situation.

To vote the full Republican ticket place a cross mark in the square to the right of the word Republican, thus wherever the word Republican appears on the Official ballot. Nothing could be simpler.

HARRISON AND PROSPERITY

Manufacturers and Employes Appreciate the Tariff's Advantages.

An agent of the Republican national committee called upon a Philadelphia manufacturer recently for his contribution to the campaign. After a generous check had been made out cheerfully the manufacturer stated that he was making money, that he was paying good wages, had plenty of work and that there wasn't a dissatisfied hand in the establishment.

There were a number of Democrats, he said, who intended to vote for Harrison because of the good times that had come along with the McKinley bill. He called one of these Democrats up, who said he meant to cast his first Republican vote in November.

"And I shall not be alone," he continued, producing a roll on which were the names and residences of twenty four other Democrats whom he had secured to vote for Harrison with him. "I want to get just one more," he said, "and then I think I shall have done my share as a Democrat towards the election of General Harrison."

In the great mill districts the McKinley bill is making votes for the reason that our textile industries were never so taxed with orders as they are today.

WHAT WATTERSON SAID

Truths About Cleveland from the Keeper of the Star Eyed Goddess.

Henry Watterson, the keeper of the star eyed goddess of reform, had this to say of Mr. Cleveland before the Chicago convention: "Mr Cleveland cannot carry New York. He was beaten by Harrison in 1888 when he had everything in his favor and Harrison was the subject of a good deal of ridicule. He is weaker today in New York while Harrison is stronger. Harrison has made his party a good president. Out here in the west you have idolized Cleveland. He does not deserve it. He is an honest, straightforward man, a good deal of a thinker, and more of a dreamer. He has caught the popular fancy. I am not a believer in enthusiasm as a means of victory. It helps things along, but behind all must be organization. And that is what Cleveland can never have in New York."

Shoes and Tin.

It is not generally known that shoes and tin are protected just alike in this country.

Raw tin ore and raw hides come in free. Yes, even block tin comes in free, but there is a tariff on manufactured leather and manufactured tin.

Why do we put a tariff on manufactured tin? Because we wish to make it ourselves, just as we make hats, caps, shoes and clothing. We don't want to let Wales make $35,000,000 worth of tin nor Germany $20,000,000 worth of shoes for us, and leave 5,000,000 Americans to stand idle or work for a few cents a day.

It is just as sensible for any one to oppose the making of shoes or hats or clothing in America as to oppose the making of tin. We are making tin. Forty factories are making it, and 500 will be making it within ten years. It took fifteen years for us to learn to make pottery. It will take us a good while to learn to make beet sugar and linen and tin, but we will do it if the tariff stands as it is and keeps $125,000,000 from going out of this country every year to pay laborers on the other side.

War Veterans Show Appreciation of Harrison's Patriotism.

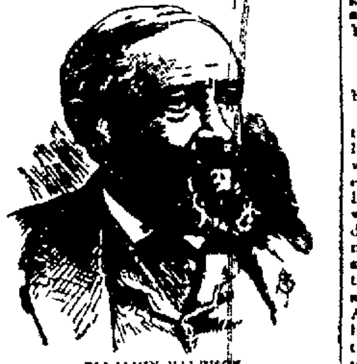
To Labor on Election Day to Get Out a Big Vote.

They Will Direct Particular Attention to Insure the Election of Republican Members of the Legislature, so as to Guarantee the Return of a Republican to the United States Senate.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.

The activity of the Veteran Union soldiers of Pennsylvania in this campaign is best shown by the efforts of the War Veterans club of this city, and similar organizations throughout the state to get out a full vote for the whole Republican ticket next Tuesday. Union veterans all over the country are taking a deep interest in General Harrison's candidacy.

Captain John Taylor, president of the War Veterans club has just sent out a letter to many comrades throughout the state in which he says:



BENJAMIN HARRISON.

AND HIS ATTITUDE TOWARD THE SOLDIERS.

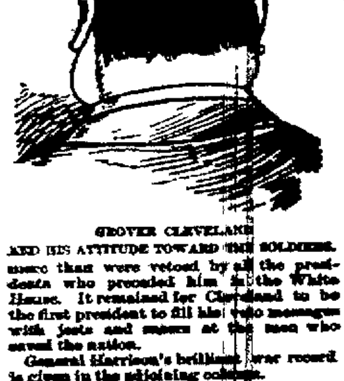
"We should not be satisfied with the re-election of President Harrison simply. Let us make sure the election of Republican congressmen, wherever possible, also the election of Republican state senators and members of the assembly, for in January next the legislature will elect a United States senator. Let us be sure that he is not only a Republican but a soldier. How can we be certain of this? By turning in with a will and insuring the election of Republican candidates for the state senate and the assembly in our respective counties. Let us give particular attention to this. Pennsylvania is safe for Harrison by an overwhelming majority. Let our especial energies among our relatives and friends be given in behalf of the senatorial and legislative candidates from this time forward. We must not forget that there are twice as many 'Rebel Brigadiers' in the United States senate as there are union soldiers. Nor must we forget that if the Republican majority in the United States senate is wiped out—and the senate is now almost a tie—and the Democrats retain control of the house, there will be very little chance for pension legislation for a generation or more.

Let us turn to, therefore, with a will in behalf of the whole Republican ticket, giving especial attention to the candidates for congress, state senate and the legislature."

Cleveland's Anti-Soldier Record.

Enclosed with this letter was a very telling document contrasting the records of Cleveland and Harrison towards the Union soldiers. This is cleverly done by means of the 'deadly parallel columns.'

In the first column Cleveland is represented as turning his back toward the soldier. Following is his war record, in which it is stated that he was an able bodied man when drafted, but served his country by a substitute, whom he permitted to die in a poorhouse. He never visited the army in the field or hospital, where a sick or wounded soldier lay to offer his sympathy or aid. He never contributed a dollar to the sanitary or Christian commission. While governor of New York he vetoed a bill to punish dead beats and beggars, who were never soldiers, for wearing G. A. R. badges. As president, he vetoed 531 pension bills which was more than were vetoed by all the presidents who preceded him in the White House. It remained for Cleveland to be the first president to fill his veto messages with jeers and sneers at the men who saved the nation.



GROVER CLEVELAND

AND HIS ATTITUDE TOWARD THE SOLDIERS.

General Harrison's brilliant war record is given in the adjoining column.

Early in the war he raised a regiment, and was its colonel. Colonel Harrison was a disciplinarian, yet his men loved and honored him. His sympathy with the sick and dying was deep and sincere. He was courageous. No danger made him flinch. His regiment shared his courage, and made for itself a lasting fame.

Harrison's noble record as president is then given. During the Fifty-first congress he approved 1,267 private pension bills, many of which had been vetoed by Cleveland. He also approved the dependent pension bill (vetoed by Cleveland), which a Republican congress had reenacted at the request of the Grand Army of the Republic.

YALE STUDENTS' POLITICS.

EDITOR MINER:

There is, without doubt, as much enthusiasm in the political contest this fall, among the undergraduates of our colleges, as there is in the foremost ranks of either of the leading parties. Here at Yale, out of the large number of students, over 1000 have signed the Republican list, while only about 300 have signed the Democratic list. While the Republican list continued to increase, the Democratic remained the same, so in utter despair the Democrats resorted to a scheme which caused much amusement to the Republicans. This is what they did: They sent a boy upon the campus, carrying a large sign, bearing the following: "For Heaven's Sake Somebody Sign the Democratic List at the Coop."

The clubs are both uniformed in full, linen dusters with long capes, blue student or mortar board caps, pari passu a torch, constitute the Republican uniform, all of which were furnished us, by William Walter Phelps, U. S. Minister to Germany.

The brigade is called the William Walter Phelps Brigade, in honor of that gentleman. The largest Republican parade of the season was held Monday evening, Oct. 17th. We were given the place of honor in the line of march. When you stop to think and realize that there were exactly 1001 Yale men in line, and everyone a Republican, does it not seem as though our colleges were Republican in sentiment and not Democratic, as many suppose!

On Friday evening of last week, Oct. 28, Hon. Chauncey M. Depew spoke to the Phelp's brigade of Yale, on the issues of the campaign. The meeting was entirely under their management and distinctly a Yale meeting, having no connection whatever with the campaign meetings held under the auspices of the Republican clubs of the city. The students appointed a committee who went to New York and personally saw Mr. Depew, and arranged with him to come to New Haven. The brigade turned out 1000 strong, led by the Second Regiment Band, and did handsomely entertain Mr. Depew while in the city.

Ex Gov. James A. Beaver addressed the Republicans of New Haven, Thursday evening, Oct. 27.

Foot ball is the prevailing athletic sport just now and will continue to be until after the big intercollegiate games. Yale's team is a strong one, notwithstanding reports to the contrary, and is bound to win the Yale-Harvard games at Springfield, Mass., Nov. 19, and the Yale Princeton game in New York city on Thanksgiving Day.

A STUDENT.

THEORIES KILLED BY FACTS.

EDITOR OF THE MINER:—

I send you a few pertinent quotations from an article which appeared lately in the Ladies' Home Journal, written by Isabel A. Mallon, one of the editors of that enterprising magazine. I wish every free-trader in America would read the entire article, it mows down with one fell stroke all the musty phrases with which free trade surround their arguments. I suppose this lady had not the least idea that she was making a strong plea for American industries. Probably then believing in free-trade theories, she thought she could buy a better article in London than in the United States, and for less money. But read what she has to say:

"The very day I reached London, I started out for my shopping. First of all I wanted some pretty cotton dresses, but I found them pretty enough, but I clutched my pocketbook just a little when I heard the price. The one which I have sketched and marked No. one and which is an ordinary black and white zephyr ginghams, was I found twenty-five cents a yard. I could duplicate that in Philadelphia for the same price, and in Boston for same and in New York at one shop, for twenty-four, and at another at nineteen, so I concluded not to fill my trunk with that material. I drew in my minds eye a sketch of a pale rose colored muslin with pink flowers in a tiny wreath which made it look like a symphony with decorations of lace and pink ribbon. The English sample is sketched as No. 2, its price is eighteen cents a yard; that which I had seen in Philadelphia and which had brought joy to my soul was fifteen cents a yard. I did not want to go home without a single new frock, so knowing that the English were great on tennis, and almost every dressmaker you approached, asked if you did not want a tennis costume, I determined to get one. The design was the light flannel drawn as No. 7, with lines of red and blue and brown going over the white ground. It cost me twenty-five cents a yard, and at a first class store at home I could get just the same thing for the money." In regard to silk, she says: "For the quality that in New York was a dollar and forty-nine cents, I should have to pay one dollar and seventy cents in London. In black materials, cashmeres, henrietta cloths, and lace brilliantines, the price is the same. One style of lace brilliantines which sells in London for thirty-five cents a yard, can be gotten in New York and Chicago for thirty cents. White cashmere, thirty-nine inches wide, pale blue, pink and the various standard colors, sells for seventy five cents a yard, and I can get quite as good and for less money in either New York or Boston."

Such is the testimony of a disinterested but intelligent witness and how completely it refutes the finely drawn theories of free-traders. If goods are sold at retail as low in this country as in England, who pays the tariff tax? Does it fall with such crushing effect upon the laboring man as to be a fraud.

WILDCAT MONEY DON'T GO NOW.

Business Men Alarmed Over the Proposition to Reintroduce It.

Thousands Desert the Democracy and Will Vote for Harrison.

They Have Inaugurated a Campaign of Their Own and Have Enthusiastic Support from Farmers, Workingmen and All Citizens who Realize the Importance of a Sound and Reliable Currency.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.

The declaration of the Democratic national platform in favor of a return to state banks and "wild cat" money has played havoc with the Democracy in this presidential campaign. Business men, fearful of a restoration of the inflated and debased currency of years ago, are deserting Cleveland and coming out boldly in favor of Harrison and sound money. They will vote the whole Republican ticket next Tuesday.

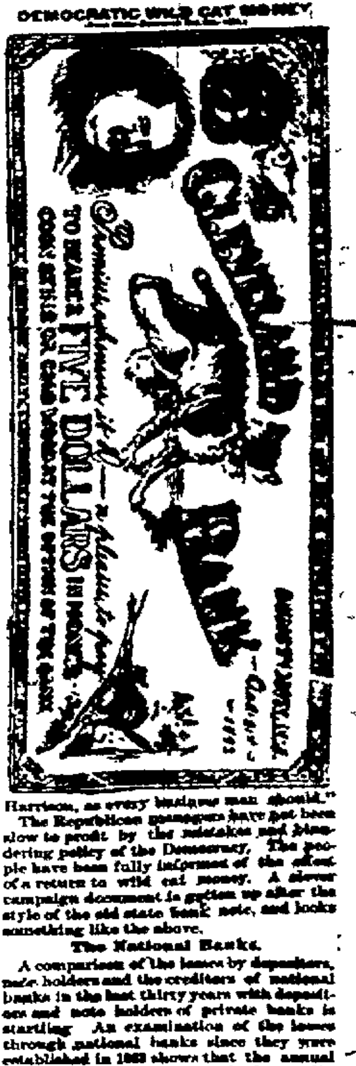
Among the latest to renounce Democracy is Frederick P. Olcott, president of the Central Trust Company, of this city, and a life long Democrat.

A Wideawake Business Man.

Few among New York business men stand higher than Mr Olcott in public esteem. The earnestness of his Democracy was attested by his election in 1876 as comptroller of the state of New York when he ran on the same ticket with Samuel J. Tilden. The widespread evils certain to follow a return to the wildcat currency, coupled with his belief in the policy of a protective tariff, have led him to do as thousands of others intend to do next week, join the Republican forces.

"The policy of the present administration," declares Mr Olcott, "is well known, and business has accommodated itself to it. Tinkering with the tariff and currency will unsettle affairs, and labor and capital will have to adjust themselves to new conditions, and both will be forced to a lower plane of compensation. I intend to vote for the re-election of President Harrison, as every business man should."

DEMOCRATIC WILD CAT MONEY.



The Republican managers have not been slow to profit by the mistakes and blundering policy of the Democracy. The people have been fully informed of the effect of a return to wild cat money. A clever campaign document is gotten up after the style of the old state bank note, and looks something like the above.

The National Banks.

A comparison of the losses by depositors, note holders and the creditors of national banks in the last thirty years with depositors and note holders of private banks is startling. An examination of the losses through national banks since they were established in 1863 shows that the annual average loss to depositors and other creditors during the entire period has been only one-twentieth of 1 per cent. The comptroller of the currency showed in his report of [illegible] that the losses by failures of private banks throughout the country amounted in a single year—[illegible]—to $17,477,429, which exceeds by far the total losses by national banks since their establishment in 1863. This shows the contrast between the condition of the national banks and the private banks of today.

Looking back to the history of private banks when they were permitted to issue currency, the contrast is still more striking. Thompson's Bank Note Reporter for October, [illegible], shows the failures of no less than [illegible] banks between Aug. 26 and Nov. 4, of 1857. Another author, "Elliott's Funding System," reports that in the year of 1841, fifty-five state banks, with an aggregate capital of [illegible] and a circulation of [illegible], failed and that in nearly every instance the entire capital and circulation were lost. Thompson's Bank Note Reporter of Nov. [illegible], 1858, reports the notes of all banks in Arkansas, Florida, Iowa and Mississippi of doubtful and only nominal value, and the notes of all banks in Wisconsin at a discount of 4 per cent., those of Virginia from 9 to 25 per cent., those of North Carolina 12 per cent., those of Ohio and Indiana from 6 to 30 per cent., and those of Illinois from 9 to 30 per cent.

This is the sort of money to which the Democratic party wants to return.

Sam Josephs Not Betting on Grover.

The Hon. Samuel Josephs, whom President Cleveland refused to appoint as marshal for the First district of Pennsylvania, because he couldn't present "a clean bill of health," has been wearing his coat buttoned over his pocket book ever since the betting began on the national result. Although the Hon. Joseph is the author of the now famous parody on the baby song in "Wang" of "Grover, Grover, Four More Years of Grover," yet, singularly, his money is not talking that way.

A Timely Query.

If the McKinley law has increased the price of everything that is required to sustain or make life comfortable, why is it that a thorough investigation made by a committee of the United States senate develops the fact that the cost of living had decreased 3.4 per cent. since the enactment of the law?—New York Advertiser.

Take no stock in any thing you hear for if there was any ground for the last hour falsehoods they would appear before it is impossible to refute them for want of time.

HON. J. B. NILES of Wellsboro in his speech at the mass meeting in Bradford on Tuesday night last said that Mr Hannon's majority in Tioga county next Tuesday will be overwhelming. No doubt about it. We understand that he will run ahead of his ticket in Tioga borough, where the sprig lives who thinks he is running for Senator.

DAVID HOWELLS is a clean man and as upright as [illegible] and we trust that in repeating what we said early in the campaign that he was never discharged from the employ of the companies for which he worked because of incompetency or dishonesty will not "outrage" the tender sensibilities of anyone. Possibly the same can be said of his opponent.

A LARGE number of the MINER's subscribers are Democrats. Knowing it would be a matter of interest to them to understand how to cast their ballot we ordered a Democratic specimen ballot for publication, for their especial benefit. We published it two weeks ago, and since then the Democratic papers have been in high glee over the MINER having changed its politics. What asses.

THAT the State Department at Harrisburg has been determined to prevent some of the Republican counties from holding legal elections has been generally feared, and now, just before the election, too late to print the official ballot, there are a half dozen Republican counties in the State in which it will be almost impossible to be provided with tickets because of Harrity's performances. A more unscrupulous political scoundrel does not exist, unless it be Dave Hill.

AMONG the silliest performances of anything we have seen in the newspaper line for some time past is the publication in this week's Democrat of what purports to be a couple of R. R. passes used by Judge Olmsted. The gentleman who presides over the columns of that paper ought to know if he does not, that 99 of every hundred of the Judges and public men of the country ride on railroad passes. He ought to know that every business man travels on them if he can procure them. He ought to know that a man is a good deal of an idiot who won't use one if he can get it.

A Timely Campaign Card.

General Reeder has issued a little campaign card which Republican committeemen throughout the state are distributing among their neighbors. It is a warning to Republicans to vote early, a call to the party to roll up a splendid majority for Harrison and Reid, and a reiteration of his explanation of how to vote under the new ballot law.

One side of the card reads

NOVEMBER 8 IS ELECTION DAY

Be sure to vote and VOTE EARLY. Many votes will be lost if there is the usual rush between 5 and 7 o'clock.

VOTE FOR HARRISON AND REID.
VOTE FOR PROTECTION TO LABOR.
VOTE FOR HONEST MONEY
VOTE FOR YOUR HOMES AND FAMILIES.
VOTE FOR YOUR FARMS AND FIRESIDES.
VOTE FOR AMERICAN HOMES.
VOTE FOR VICTORY

BE SURE TO VOTE.

Pennsylvania Republicans must not be weighed in the balance and found wanting.

LET US ROLL UP AN ALL-TIME MAJORITY

On the other side of the card is printed

HOW TO VOTE.

Marking of the Ticket Under the New Law is Very Simple.

Place a cross mark X in the square to the RIGHT of the word REPUBLICAN wherever the word REPUBLICAN appears in the first column of the official ballot.

This is how the ballot appears BEFORE it is marked

REPUBLICAN

This is how it appears AFTER it is marked

REPUBLICAN	X

As there are a number of groups of candidates in the Republican or first column the word REPUBLICAN is printed at the top of each group and a cross must be made TO THE RIGHT of it wherever the word REPUBLICAN appears. Do not pay any attention to the other five columns of the ballot. THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES ARE ALL IN THE FIRST COLUMN.

FRANK REEDER,
Chairman Republican State Committee.

After reading this card no Republican can have any excuse for remaining away from the polls because of ignorance of how to mark his ballot.

[illegible]

FROM every quarter comes news of the most cheering character. The Republican outlook is [illegible].

VOTE for Harrison and Reid and protection to American workmen as against Cleveland and Stevenson and foreign pauper labor.

YOU will make no mistake in voting for David Howells for County Treasurer. He possesses the proper qualifications for that position, capability, honesty and integrity, and he is sure of an election.

MR. M[illegible] has been treated in the kindest manner by the Republican press of the county all through the campaign. How different has been the action of the papers which have supported him. Can it be possible that he endorses their conduct?

THE [illegible] Democratic States are all former slave States eleven of which seceded from the Union. If the Democracy triumph these eleven States will rule the Union. So long as they are dominated by the same class of men who tried to wreck the Union they must not be allowed to rule.

MANY disreputable methods have been resorted to by the opposition to defeat the Republican candidates in this county and in no respect is this the case as regards Judge Olmsted. But it won't work gentlemen. Judge Olmsted is the peer of any man in the District. He has honored the bench, has the confidence and esteem of all fair minded citizens and will be triumphantly elected.

THE R. R. companies whose lines traverse this county [illegible] complain that the verdicts against them for damages etc are excessive. Juries seem to take delight in getting a whack at these corporations. Did any one ever hear of Judge Olmsted setting aside one of these verdicts or cutting it down? Can any lawyer refer to a case where Judge Olmsted has granted the R. R. Co. a new trial on account of the large verdict given by the juries? It is the sheerest nonsense to say that Judge Olmsted's conduct as a judge is in any way controlled by the R. R. pass he has in his pocket.

A story has been started that the friends of David Howell were intending to trade off votes for McClure. We have been looking for this kind of lies being circulated at the last moment and we are glad to be able to knock this one in the head. It is said that this trading will be done in Kane and the southern townships of the county. We telegraphed to Kane on Thursday evening to know what foundation there was for such a report. In response to that telegram Messrs Joshua Davis and Frank Lyle, two of the most reputable citizens of the county came to Smethport on Friday morning and characterized the story as a most infamous one. They denied in the most positive manner that such an idea had ever been suggested in Kane or in their section of the county. They say that in no section of the county is Judge Olmsted stronger than in there, and in no section is he surer of getting the entire Republican vote.

IN the 31 years of his residence in this county (most of which time he has been engaged in the newspaper business), the editor of the MINER has never known so much filth to be circulated in the columns of the democratic papers of the county as has characterized those sheets this fall. It seems almost incredible that men who pose and probably want to be considered respectable, can get down so low and cover themselves so effectually with the slime of the political cess pool. Any one unacquainted with Judge Olmsted, would to read their papers, come to the conclusion that he was no better than a common thief, a most disreputable character utterly unfit to preside over the courts of this county. That he is one of the ablest and most accomplished jurists as well as one of the purest men in this state has no weight with these people. Well there is one satisfaction to be extracted from the course pursued by them, and that is that a considerable number of the most reputable democrats of the county will vote for Judge Olmsted next Tuesday, as a rebuke to their own political papers for their infamous course through the campaign.

OUR CANDIDATES.

HON. CHARLES W. STONE.

The Republican candidate for Congress in this district is too well known to require an extended notice at our hands. He is what is generally known as self-made, having fought his way up step by step by his own energies to a prominent and honorable position. In 1869 Mr Stone was elected to the legislature from the district composed of Warren and Venango counties and at once attained prominence as an aggressive and forcible debater and a skillful parliamentarian which led to his re-election by an increased majority in 1870. In 1876 he was elected to the State Senate and served with distinction through the sessions of 1877 and 1878. In 1878, in deference to the universal demand he was nominated for Lieutenant Governor on the ticket with General Hoyt and after a stirring canvass, in which he displayed rare oratorical power he was with his associate triumphantly elected. From this time he filled other positions by appointment with great credit and on the death of Hon. Lewis F. Watson he was elected to Congress to fill the vacancy and also for the succeeding term. His record in the house has been a brilliant one. He will without doubt be elected to succeed himself. No Republican can afford to withhold him his vote.

HON. A. F. HANNON.

Our candidate for State Senator Hon. A. F. Hannon is one of the best known men in this section. He was born in Tioga county where at an early age he went to work in the coal mines. His opportunities were circumscribed but being a man of indomitable energy he soon began to rise above his surroundings. In 18[illegible] he came to McKean county and entered the employ of the Kane railway as station agent at Kendall Creek. The following year he embarked in the coal business and soon became the leading dealer in his section. In 18[illegible] he was elected Controller of the county [illegible] the expiration of his term was further honored with the nomination for sheriff and was elected by a handsome majority over his opponent [illegible] after a bitter contest. He served the people well in that capacity and made many friends whom he still retains. In 1889 Mr Hannon received the appointment of Reading Clerk of the Senate and filled the position with credit. He was always an indefatigable worker in the Republican ranks and during his entire career he has never been charged with using any [illegible] to further his own [illegible] party's [illegible]. We have reason to expect that Mr Hannon will poll his own party vote but will draw largely from the opposition.

W. E. BURDICK.

It is said that [illegible] section is the recipient [illegible] but [illegible] we have a candidate [illegible] to honor. He [illegible] lower house of the Legislature [illegible] amply proven that the [illegible] worthily bestowed. He was elected to the Assembly as a representative from McKean county in 1888 and [illegible] even a more favorable [illegible] on his entry to that body [illegible] has on several occasions been honored by being called to the chair as speaker pro tem in which position he [illegible] rare ability as a parliamentarian [illegible] decisions ever being received with satisfaction. As an acknowledgment of his ability he was again [illegible] elected [illegible] the Legislature he was one of the prominent candidates for the speakership but finally gave way to [illegible] Thompson of Warren [illegible] Burdick has [illegible] himself [illegible] member of the Legislature. He has been faithful to every trust and [illegible] only should [illegible]. He is deserving of every Republican vote.

H. H. NORTH

is a candidate for Legislative honors of which the Republicans are justly proud having made for himself an enviable reputation in the eyes of the people for integrity, honesty and ability. Herman H. North came to this county and located in Bradford about [illegible] years ago. In his profession and business he has been a faithful [illegible] having earned [illegible] through [illegible] reason of [illegible] business entrusted to him. [illegible] warmly attached to this locality [illegible] no man in the county is so completely filled with a love and interest in McKean county and state of Pennsylvania. Although not a politician Mr North has always taken a deep interest in politics. He is an ardent Republican and deserves well at the hands of the party. He was elected chairman of the County Committee in 1890 and managed the campaign of that year in a highly satisfactory manner. In July last Mr North was unanimously chosen as one of the candidates of his party for member of assembly. That he will be elected and creditably and ably represent McKean County in the [illegible] Legislature goes without saying.

DAVID HOWELLS,

of Kane the Republican candidate for Treasurer of McKean county is a man whom to know is to honor. His worth as a citizen has been manifested in a manner that has commanded for him the unprejudiced admiration, esteem and confidence of the people not only of his own town but the entire county which he enjoys to day to the fullest extent. No man, perhaps in McKean county is better fitted to fill this important position of County Treasurer than Mr Howells, he being honest, capable and painstaking. He had filled the responsible position of book keeper in a large mercantile house for years and been entrusted with the entire management of an important manufacturing concern. The highest tribute that can be paid to a man [illegible] ness and qualifications for a responsible and trustworthy office will be tendered to our candidate for treasurership honors on Nov. 8, in the shape of an overwhelming majority.

HON. A. G. OLMSTED

No man in this Judicial District is better or more favorably known than Hon. A. G. Olmsted, the Republican candidate for President Judge. [illegible] he was eligible to the office he was elected District Attorney of Potter county and served his term with credit. In 1873 he was elected to the Legislature. In this capacity he served three terms, the last as speaker of the house. In 1885 he was elected to the State Senate and took an active part in its sessions, and is the author of many of our most [illegible] drawn acts. In 1888 he was elected Additional Law Judge of the Fourth Judicial District, and on the district being divided he was made the President Judge of the 48th district composed of McKean and Potter counties. As Judge he has been particularly fortunate in his rulings, his decisions being almost invariably sustained by the higher courts. As a private citizen and a gentleman his character is without [illegible]. As the leader at [illegible] he has [illegible] and has [illegible] many of the leading but substantial enterprises. Mr Olmsted is again a candidate for President Judge of the 48th district and having received the [illegible] endorsement of the Democratic County convention of Potter county his election is practically assured by an overwhelming majority.

Republicans of McKean County, this is the ticket you are called upon to support next Tuesday and why should you not vote for every man on it? We ask that you compare it with that of our opponents in your quiet homes and then ask yourselves the question why should I be giving complimentary votes to men who would never vote for me? You have been urged [illegible] against the men who represent your principles. We commend it to you all. [illegible]

[illegible]

Before another letter can be written and printed from your Harrisburg correspondent, the result of the election will be known, but without professing to be a prophet let me say, that there is nothing, up to the present writing, to cause any republican to be discouraged or disheartened; the outlook is exceedingly bright for us and every republican owes to his state a solemn duty to vote the straight republican ticket.

New York is ours, Connecticut is ours, New Jersey will flop over, Delaware is wavering in fealty to democracy, West Virginia is awfully doubtful for democracy and Harrison and Reid will be elected President and Vice-President of the United States on November 8th. Mark the prediction.

A nation mourns with the sad affliction that has been visited upon President Harrison. For a number of months past the whole country has been watching with anxious hope at the sick bedside of Mrs. Harrison, praying for the complete recovery of the distinguished patient but it has been ordered otherwise and the bereaved President has the heartfelt sympathy of the whole nation.

ALLEGHENY

A COMPARISON

HARRISON'S RECORD AS PRESIDENT

During the Fifty first Congress (both the Senate and House being Republican) he approved 1,357 private pension bills, many of which had been vetoed by Cleveland. He also approved the Dependent Pension Bill (vetoed by Cleveland) which a Republican Congress had re-enacted at the request of the Grand Army of the Republic. By it any veteran who served ninety days and was honorably discharged, can receive a pension of from six to twelve dollars per month, whether his disability was contracted in the service or not.

President Harrison was always in touch with the soldier. He has said "I know of no higher honor in this world than to be called comrade by the survivors of those who saved the union." And now "comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic surviving veterans of that gallant band that from the mountains and valleys went out to defend the flag, I give you a comrade's greeting to-day. God bless you every one. God forgive that American in this bright day of prosperity and unity who can begrudge you [illegible] even the just dues of your loyal services."

CLEVELAND'S RECORD AS PRESIDENT

[illegible] pension bills pocketed [illegible] from becoming laws 47. [illegible] 37 bills he defeated. [illegible] 27 more which became laws without his signature. Total from which he withheld his signature [illegible].

He also vetoed the Dependent Pension Bill which was framed and urged by the Grand Army of the Republic.

In vetoing the Dependent Pension Bill he kept [illegible] sick and disabled veterans in the poorhouses of the country who were afterward enabled [illegible] President Harrison's bill.

While President he went fishing on Decoration Day, a very sacred day to the old soldier.

He vetoed a greater number of pension bills than all of the Presidents of the United States from Washington to Arthur, covering a period of one hundred years.

It remained for Grover Cleveland to be the first President who found it consistent with his dignity to file his veto messages with [illegible] sneers at the [illegible] of the nation.

WHY A SWEDISH AMERICAN NEWSPAPER SUPPORTS THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

[illegible] Chicago wrote to the [illegible] Swedish [illegible] at Omaha Neb. and [illegible] paper advocating [illegible] principles and received the following reply in the editorial column of that paper: "Our Republicanism is the result of investigation [illegible]. The history of [illegible] country [illegible] written by the life work of republicans. It is with happiness we declare that the majority of our countrymen in the United States belong to the Republican party. Our mission as an American newspaper shall be to advocate Republican principles. As foreigners have come to this country [illegible] conditions we have [illegible] and we ought never to forget what we owe this grand republic. In the heat of political battles may we never [illegible] but vote in accordance with our convictions and [illegible] shall gain the respect of every true hearted man and woman. [illegible] recommend the Republican ticket as one worthy the support of every Swedish American citizen."

ON THE DEATH OF MRS HARRISON

At the Republican Mass Meeting held at Kane on Tuesday of last week the following resolutions offered by Hon. A. Northrup, Esq., of the Mt Jewett Herald expressive of the sense of the meeting on the death of Mrs. Harrison were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the death of Mrs. Harrison the country feels the loss of one who has always been held in high esteem and admired for her sterling qualities as a lady among all classes, as a national one.

Resolved, That we, as a Nation, sympathize with our Honorable President, and find consolation with him in the belief that it is well with her, for whom we mourn.

Resolved, That this heartfelt testimonial of our sorrow be transmitted through the county press.

A PLAIN TALK

On a Plain Subject in Plain Language.

A winter is just before us with all of its biting winds and, cold, drizzling rains, sloppy, muddy streets, and sudden changes of temperature. This will cause at least one half of the people to have catarrh, colds, coughs, pneumonia and consumption. Thousands of people will lose their lives and tens of thousands of people will acquire chronic ailment from which they will never recover. Unless you take the necessary precautions the chances are that you (who read this) will be one of the unfortunate ones. Little or no risk need be run if Pe-ru-na is kept in the house and at the first appearance of any symptom take it as directed on the label. No one who values his welfare should be without a copy of The Family physician No. 2, a complete guide to the treatment and prevention of all climatic diseases of winter. LITERARY NOTES

FALL DRESS GOODS FOR LADIES.

The Autumn and Winter exhibit of dress fabrics is novel, elegant, most bewildering in variety and suited to all purses and tastes. Plain and fancy camel's hair serges, a gorgeous array of changeable velvets, velours [illegible], velutine ombree, Scotch plaids, new stuffs in gray Persian, Turkish and Russian colors, silk and wool jacquards, fancy satines and bengalines that are short striped, plaided, basket-woven and iridescent are some of the novelties from over the sea. These fabrics come in such an artistic diversity that they require an abundance of appropriate models. To this end new designs from the picturesque historic and classic modes to the plain and practical tailor gowns are constantly created. The McDowell Fashion Journals, published at 4 West 14th St. New York are the first to publish these models and present them in an infinite variety intended to meet all tastes and circumstances of life. Paris Album of Fashion and La Mode de Paris are used by the most stylish dressmakers. The price of each is $3.50 a year. La Couturiere is a great favorite and has attained an immense success, being $1.00 a year. La Mode is the best Fashion Journal ever offered for the yearly subscription price of $1.50. If you cannot get these journals from your newsdealers send to the publishers direct.

SUNDAY IN A WESTERN CITY.

They have an American Sunday at St. Louis. It is the same as what we in the East call a European Sunday. But it becomes apparent to whoever travels far in the United States that the only Sunday which deserves a distinct title is that of England, New England and the Atlantic coast. The Sunday of Chicago, San Francisco, Cincinnati, New Orleans, St. Louis and most of the larger cities of the land is European if you please, but it is also American. In St. Louis the theaters, [illegible] galleries, dives, melodians, cigar and refreshment places of every kind are all kept wide open. On the other days the city keeps up in great part the measure of its old riverside hospitality, a survival of the merry era of steamboats. The numerous night resorts—the variety and music halls, the dance-houses and the beer gardens—[illegible] nothing [illegible] by day.—From "The New [illegible] of St. Louis," by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine for November.

The November number of Romance is a typical American one. Here are grouped together characteristic stories by Nathaniel Hawthorne, Edgar Allen Poe, Mary Hartwell Catherwood and Harriet Prescott Spofford, the last of which contributes a thrilling Thanksgiving story. The East, the West, the North and South all represented by these vigorous and wholesome articles among which there are a half dozen uncommonly strong [illegible] Valett Hall [illegible] Sharp [illegible] Thomas [illegible] and Fred M. Hopkins [illegible] in the magazine [illegible] special [illegible] illustrating the [illegible] nations which are [illegible] popular [illegible] Romance is [illegible] Clinton Hall, New York [illegible] cents per copy [illegible] a year.

THERE is a mistaken idea in the minds of some that stickers can be used on the official ballot form for the new law to paste over any name printed thereon. None of the official printed names can be erased or scratched out or printed over. Stickers can be used but they can be legally placed in the blank spaces on the ballot left for the purpose and not over another name. In these blank spaces the voter may insert any name he chooses either by means of a sticker by writing or stamping it.

A vote for the Republican ticket is a vote to foster American industries; a vote for the Democratic ticket is a vote in favor of foreign pauper labor. Vote the straight Republican ticket.

[illegible] "Practical Tithing" will be the subject of the discourse at the M. E. church next Sunday morning. [illegible]

[illegible]

But few days remain in which to complete the work of the campaign—the getting out of the vote. Every earnest Republican should be early at the polls and cast his own vote, then see that his neighbor does likewise.

After twenty years of Republican rule the people of the United States are the freest, most prosperous and best educated of any who ever formed one nation on the face of the earth. Vote the Republican ticket next Tuesday.

The attention of every Republican voter is called to the sample ballot published on the fourth page of this paper. To vote the straight ticket it is only necessary to place a cross in the square opposite the word Republican wherever it occurs, as is there indicated.

Carrying out the spirit of improvement, which is a characteristic trait, T. H. Pattie is building a commodious barn in the rear of his wagon shop, on Water street, which will be used for various purposes. It is three stories high and will be supplied with all the modern appliances.

The ear marks of Smethport's hoodlum element were visible on all sides on Tuesday morning, indicating that the usual halloween pranks had been indulged in the night before. They were, however, in the main, of a harmless character and therefore unlike those perpetrated on former occasions.

All Saint's Day was observed on Tuesday last, by services morning and evening, at St. Luke's church. There was choral evensong at 7:30, and an address by the Rector, Rev. J. H. McCandless, in the course of which mention was made of those members of the parish who had died within the past year, and a fitting tribute was paid to each.

Notwithstanding the questionable reputation that preceded it, the E. D. Roger's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, which appeared at the opera house on Monday night, was greeted with a large audience. We think the criticism of some of our exchanges are rather severe, for while we have seen very many better companies, we have seen worse. However, we do not think Mr. Rogers will again inflict himself on a Smethport audience.

—Just before the services on Sunday evening last, Rev. E. E. Helms gave notice that, beginning with next Sunday, he proposed giving eight Sunday evening lectures, "That Young Man; with hints To That Young Woman." The several subjects will be, "That Young Man's (1) 'Blood,' (2) 'Brains,' (3) 'Business,' (4) 'Cigars,' (5) 'Fun,' (6) 'Keeley Cure,' (7) 'Young Wife—How to Get Her and How to Keep Her,' (8) 'Religion.'" —Politics.

—Everything is politics this week.

During the Democratic meeting on Tuesday night last and in the absence of the family, the store of James Tracy, at East Smethport, was entered by burglars and $8 in money, a quantity of cigars, tobacco, etc., carried off. An entrance was effected through a side window. It is thought that the deed was perpetrated by parties who had visited the store through the day, as the large nails with which the window was fastened, had been removed or loosened, thus allowing easy access to the interior.

Hank Taylor of the Grand Central hotel, showed the stuff he was made of to the [illegible] of the body of Martin Biers, who was found dead in a room in his house on Tuesday of last week. The following letter of Oct. 27th from J. H. Tempest of Buffalo, tells the story: "F. N. Taylor Esq., Dear Sir: The unpleasantness that called me to your place and the manner in which you accepted the situation together with your action when they wanted to move the dead body to a lonely store in your town in the night, from your hotel, and you said 'Boys, I've a heart, don't move him,' shows you have a warm spot in your heart for the commercial traveler. Accept my thanks for your kindness and believe me as ever your friend, J. H. Tempest."

The democratic meeting at the court house on Thursday evening last was anything but a success. The meeting organized with Hon. R. D. Hamlin as chairman. Hon. James D. Hancock, Democratic candidate for congress was the principal speaker. The meeting opened with a large attendance, but before the close of Mr. Hancock's remarks it had dwindled to nothingness. Whatever else can be said, Mr. Hancock certainly told the truth when he said he knew nothing about the tariff, as was plainly shown before he had proceeded far with that subject. It was very evident that the speakers and leaders of the democracy were much worried over the speech of Hon. Marriott Brosius, delivered the Monday evening previous, and several attempts were made to refute his statements. They were feeble ones, however, and fell flat, notwithstanding Mr. Brosius was unequipped to suit the speaker. The meeting certainly did not help the Democratic cause.

To vote the full Republican ticket place a cross mark in the square to the right of the word Republican, thus:

REPUBLICAN	X

wherever the word Republican appears on the official ballot. Nothing could be simpler.

Obituary.

[illegible]

Olean House Lease Renewed.

The traveling public and the people of Olean generally will learn with satisfaction that Mr. H. S. Sartwell has procured a renewal of the lease of the Olean House for one term with the privilege of three years. The lease expires in February, 1893, and [illegible] that the house will continue for another term of years under the capable management and proprietorship of Mr. Sartwell, who has made it one of the most popular and well conducted hotels in Western New York. Nothing adds more to the prestige of a town than a good hotel, and this Mr. Sartwell has given the public. The city couldn't very well get along without Henry Sartwell, and we should be glad to see a better and more attractive hotel building on the site of the old structure. If the old part could be built up to correspond with the new section of the house and with the new Masonic Temple, Olean would have a hotel, under Mr. Sartwell's management, of which in every respect we could be proud. But this will probably come in good season, meanwhile some needed improvements are being made in the interior, and the public, as heretofore, will be well cared for, comfortably housed and abundantly fed, with always a generous welcome from the affable proprietor and his corps of courteous assistants.—Olean Times.

A Modern Marvel.

When The Pittsburgh Times took possession of its splendid building last April its publishers promised that The Times would grow in excellence in the same proportion as its quarters have been enlarged. The Times has already won such a proud position among the newspapers of the country that there was general curiosity to know how the promise would be redeemed. That curiosity has been most pleasantly gratified. The Times has been so enlarged, and so many new features have been added, that it is everywhere cited as a marvel of modern journalism. The chief wonder is that a newspaper so complete in every respect can be sold for one cent a day, or $3.00 per year, little more than the cost of a first class weekly paper. If any of our readers are not familiar by personal inspection with the merits of The Times, we advise them to send for a sample copy, which will be mailed free to any address. If there is no agent for The Times in your locality it will pay you to write to The Times for terms to agents.

The masterly speech of Hon. Marriott Brosius delivered here at the Republican meeting last week, made several converts to protection. Many thanks are due Chairman Rogers for securing such an able speaker. One lifelong Democrat declares that any laboring man who heard the speech, and votes a Democratic ticket would be a dark dunce.

The accident is a doubly sad one, as the family are not the possessors of much of this world's goods, the father being sickly, the family another one and a large one. They have the sympathy of all.

Clarance Green, who has been a citizen of Port Allegany for more than thirty years, died at his home across the river last Thursday and was buried Saturday afternoon. For the last few years, Mr. Green has lived a somewhat peculiar life, but everyone who knew him, will say that he was a good citizen in his way.

A very smart young man by the name of Sullivan, went into Mr. Swanson's eating house on Mill St., last Wednesday and ordered and ate his dinner, and refused to pay for it, and walked out. Mr. Sullivan had the young gent arrested, and Constable Durlee conducted him to Mr. Grubb's hotel at Smethport, where he can get his meals without price.

Mr. Zoon of this place, an unfortunate victim of the liquor habit, who is being treated in Kittanning, is having a pretty hard time, but he has lost his appetite for drink, and now if the people will help him, and take him by the hand and encourage him, he will make one of our best citizens. A man that will offer him liquor, or will in any way influence him to go back into the sin and dreads of intemperance after the suffering that he and his family have endured, is a miserable vagabond upon the face of the earth and not entitled to breath God's pure air.

An Item From Eldred.

Post No. 156, G. A. R., of Eldred, led by the commander, Chas. Slack, and accompanied by the Relief Corps, went up to Farmers Valley on Thursday afternoon of last week, and arriving at the home of Rev. A. Bronson, about five o'clock quietly took possession. The party consisted of about thirty persons, all of whom were well supplied with toothsome viands and they at once proceeded to spread a large family table with the many good things, which all old soldiers love so well. The Elder, who had gone to town, found on his return in attempting to open the door that he had been flanked both in front and rear, but was finally admitted and allowed to join the party. The evening was spent in social chat, songs, &c., and the Elder in a neat little speech, thanked the comrades for the call.

Best Shoes

Graver and greater than other problems that face all men in the mercantile arena is that of buying right, so that when the grapple comes with the sneering concern that shoulder to shoulder with fixed figures, fought lower prices, there will be no mistake in the position, range or execution of the unanswerable volley of Racket grape and canister. One of our latest competition crushers is shown a box full of them bought from a leading shoe factory at Lynn, Mass. These shoes are of all kinds suitable for all people. They are of first-class stock and perfect workmanship. Why should they not be? They are not the chosen samples. They are for sale at twenty-five per cent below wholesale price which means to you about half the price charged by regular shoe dealers.

It is a Good Thing

I say this is for Pan-Tina: I have been in the drug business many years and this is one of the most successful Cough remedies I have sold. A case in point, a neighbor, Mr. L. H. Nicodemus, had a chronic cough of six years standing which no medicine would relieve. I recommended Pan-Tina, and its effect was magical. It is a good thing.

A girl of 13 years was left in charge of her 3-year-old sister for one night of her mother's absence. During the night the little one, waking with her head at the footboard, indignantly exclaimed, "This is a pretty way to take care of me, let me sleep all night wrong side out!"

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her one more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for the remainder of the night. She got the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not know the true merits of this wonderful medicine." Charles A. Thompson, Des Moines, Iowa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. B. Armstrong, Druggist.

The very title of the bill referred to proclaimed its object to be to prevent the use of force at elections.—Reid's Letter of Acceptance.

A Sample of McKinley Prosperity.

The total value of our exports over imports during the fiscal year ending July 31, 1891, were $28,305,944. The McKinley bill then had but a part of that year in which to operate. In 1892 it had a full year, and July 31, 1892, found our excess of exports over imports to be $234,380,064 as a balance in favor of the McKinley bill. In another year many new factories now being built throughout our country will be in operation and our showing will be far greater. Many British, German and Scottish mills and factories are being brought over here and will give employment to our workingmen.

The Tariff and Tobacco.

The McKinley act has been of the greatest benefit to the tobacco growers of the United States. It has released American planters from ruinous competition with the cheap labor of Sumatra, and has enabled them to obtain higher prices for their crop and to enlarge materially the volume of production. Tobacco farming has become an important industry in Pennsylvania, New England, New York and other states which have suffered from competition with western states in the production of breadstuffs. While the crop is a small one in comparison with the main agricultural staples, it creates one of a minor class of industries which enable eastern farmers to make a living. It deserved an effective measure of protection, and has received it from the hands of Republican legislators.

The Keshout Gold Cure.

Dr. E. L. Keshout, of Omaha, Neb., has located a branch institute at Bradford, Pa., for permanent cure of liquor, opium, morphine and tobacco.

The cure is one that has been in use for 18 months, and up to date the success of the treatment has been equal to any treatment known.

The institute is under the personal supervision of Dr. C. H. Reese, who will gladly answer any inquiries made regarding the cure, treatment or sale of territory for opening of branch institutes.
